JOHANNES ZETTERBERG | EQUANIMITY

After a four-year absence, bassist Johannes Zetterberg returns in full force with Equanimity - his first offering since 2011's highly acclaimed Painter's Portrait. Featuring an almost entirely new cast of characters, this is a brand new collection of original material that draws from a large palette of influences, and is certain to appeal to fusion aficionados around the globe. Says Johannes:

"I actually planned for this one to come out two years ago, but due to scheduling conflicts and circumstances beyond my control it ended up getting delayed time and time again. It sort of became a blessing in disguise though, as I was able to improve on song arrangements and whatnot in the meantime, and I definitely feel like the songs gained a lot from that extra time they got to sit and grow. I'm my own worst critic, but I couldn't be happier with how this album turned out, it really has exceeded my expectations. You know, I'd like to think I have matured as a musician & songwriter in the four years since my last album, and I hope it shows in these songs."

Currently residing in Hamburg, Germany, Johannes splits his time between teaching bass & doing session work for various groups & artists.
